Girl Jailed For Strip

Hornet drama writer Pat Pickle was jailed last night on a charge of indecent exposure after she reportedly became overenthused at the opening of a new musical, "Pussy Galore Goes to College," and did a wild, 10-minute strip on the Little Theater stage.

Miss Pickle was dragged, screaming and yelling "Where's my bra?!!" from the stage to a patrol car waiting outside the campus theater.

Officers were dismayed to find they had been ticketed by the campus constables for having no current SSC decal on the patrol car windshield.

Further furor arose when Miss Pickle was mistakenly booked into the drunk tank instead of the women's jail facilities.

The officers charged the Hornet staffer leaped onto the stage into the arms of a student portraying James Bond, then began disrobing to a wild jungle beat.

Early today, the Academic Standards Committee met in an emergency session to consider disciplinary measures that may be taken against Miss Pickle. The basis of their complaint is the strip and that she enrolled under an assumed name. Her real name, they said, is Lily St. Leer.

Drama department professors, meantime, set about writing a play to include a strip such as the one Miss Pickle allegedly performed.

"It was a real moneymaker," one of them said.

Sax Charged

President Is Arrested As Hell's Angels Member

It was disclosed early this morning that Paul Sax, student body president, has been arrested as a member of the Hell's Angels motorcycle gang.

Sax was arrested in the early morning hours on his return home from a cyclist meeting. Sergeant Claude Hopper, security officer, who made the arrest, stated that suspicion of Sax first began when a Fruit of Forum agent discovered a carbon copy of a note in Sax's toilet. The note, Hopper said, was addressed to Kappa Rama sorority and offered a Count De Sade mixer with the Angeles. Hopper said it was supposed to be BYOBC (Bring Your Own Bicycle Chain) but that whips could be used.

Error Eron, of the Psychology Department, said that Sax's fascination with Hell's Angeles and student government was obviously traceable to reading too many Ian Fleming novels in his youth. Eron called this "Flemingbation."

The Fruit of Forum agent, when asked how he had managed to spy on Sax, said it was easy. "All I did every day for two months was carry in his bottle of gin in the morning and afternoon, and carry out the empty ones. He never suspected a thing."

Sax was at first thrown into the City drunk tank, where a Hornet reporter interviewed him. When released, the Hornet reporter telephoned in this interview with the Great Grand Impotent of the Hell's Angels, North Area.

"President Sax

"Call me Slim."

"Pardon me, Slim. How long have you been a member of Hell's Angels?

"Ever since it was a tricycle gang."

"When was that?"

"About four months ago."

"How come you bacame Associated Student Body President, Slim?"

"I kept running into trees."

"I see. Just what did you do as a Hell's Angels member?"

Here Sax just leered. There after followed a long discussion about the Free Speech Movement, the Civil Liberties Union, Pat Brown, Forum, and the Bracero program.

"Well, all this is very interesting." The Hornet reporter said, "but how does it tie in with the student government, Hell's Angels, and civil liberties."

"What!" said Sax staggering off his straw palate, "This is a great crusade for truth! For justice! For Sex! For Sa... Today Sacramento State, tomorrow Selma!"

"Settle down, Slim."

"Thank you, I do feel rather weak. How would you like to hear some of those jokes I told at Greek Shows? O.K, forget it. How would you like a drink? Fine, just wait until I unscrew my leg here..."

Body Segments Still Missing

At 2:34 this morning, campus police officer Harry Peters found the mutilated remains of Ken Benton, late editor of the HORNET. Officer Peters, in a special report to the Hornet stated that "...it probably wasn't a suicide. There was no murder weapon found in his hand; the right one that is, we haven't found the left one yet. Of course, there are those who say that there was nothing left about the editor."

BULLETIN

Campus coroner, Aloyizius Q. (Butch) Slaughter, in a special report to the HORNET, he states that based on the segments of the deceased editor that have been found, Benton was slain with a regulation Turkish Army sabre, 1914 officer issue, much like those used during the Arabian campaign of WWI.

Slaughter continued, "Contrary to the rumors that have been spread around campus, there WAS DEFINATELY NO EVIDENCE that the late editor was sexually molested.

As the search for the killers continues, letters of sympathy and of congratulations have been pouring into the HORNET office.

The texts of some are as follows:

"I mourne the loss of an old friend and fellow patriot, but I told him to lay off the 'Sugar Daddies'" – Robert Welch.

"I am deeply sorrowed that I missed the event" Surrender Arman.

"In this time of need, you may always count on the services of myself and my staff." John R. Butts, president, Butts, Inc., Taxidermists.

"We have overcome," The American Society for the Preservation of the Model United Nations, Katy Makum Shield, secretary to the President Dr. Lou Chin, B.A., M.S., Ph.D.

R. F. Savage, leader of the newly organized campus "FILTHY SPEECH" movement, said in an eulogy on the beloved HORNET leader, "...that to describe Ken,--- I just don't have words filthy enough..."

BULLETIN

A usually well informed source, reports that Sergeant Major Claude Hopper has definately limited his suspects to those male students, faculty, and staff that Mr. Benton has alieniated by his firey editorials, thus cutting the list down to a mere 6,349 possible suspects.

"I miss an old friend. I will make available for the Podium the greatest eulogy that has ever been written." Victor Comenchero.

ED. NOTE..The HORNET will publish this "Eulogy on the Death of a Mad Editor" in installments due to lack of space in a lesser number of issues.

Party Boss Resigns

Administration sources today revealed that former Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, unsuccessful candidate for President in 1964, has been enrolled at Sacramento State College since the beginning of the spring term.

Goldwater has been masquerading as Kenneth L. Benton, editor of the State Hornet.

The politician's presence on campus and the bizzare impersonation were uncovered when administrators noticed the tone of recent editorials in the campus newspaper.

"Only a fanatic like Goldwater could write something like these," one of them told the Hornet.

Tells Story

Contacted in Shakey's last night, Goldwater – influenced by too many beers – broke down and unfolded the tale he kept hidden until yesterday:

"After losing the election last November, I fell into a deep state of depression. After a couple of months of soul-searching, I finally decided I'd have to pick up the threads of my life.

Looking around for a suitable job, I came upon journalism. You see, I'd always wanted to be a newspaperman but I was continually turned down. No one would give me a job because I refused to join the American Newspaper Guild. You know how I feel about labor organizations...."

Gets Idea

"Then I hit upon a great idea – I'd join a college newspaper staff! After reading some of the way-out editorials in the State Hornet I decided that was the place for me.

"Out-of-state student fees were too high, I felt, so I asked Ken Benton if he'd trade places with me. He refused at first, but I finally convinced him.

" 'In your heart you know I'm right,' I told him that did the trick."

Both Quit

"Goldwater's resignation, along with Benton's, was submitted to the registrar's office this morning. A few Hornet staffers who'd protested the editorial tone of the campus sheet held a rather somber party in the Hornet office.

A few other staffers quietly began stripping the Hornet office walls of signs reading, "Liberty," "In Your Heart You Know He's Right," and signs of similar nature.

In the Administration building, too, a celebration was held in honor of what some said would be a new day for the Hornet and the college.

Forum Basketball Team Sees Swinging Victory

Forum's basketball team is taking shape, with Coach Victor Commanche delighted with the progress the team has made this season. "The boys work real hard and I think they are a real swell team. Phil Cecchettini, one of Forum's general coordinators, is a real coordinated kid.

He gets in there and shoots! We're lucky to have Tom Shea, all Europe basketball star, in there as center. He shoots well with either hand and is a tall, good-looking boy. Ralph Schmidt and Ron Groves move well across the court as guards. They have been real valuable. We hope to keep up our winning streak."

Don Garrett, Forum's PR man, will be leading the rooting section at the game tomorrow night. He's got a lot of spirit and those Forum members back him well with their big mouths. A real rousing cheering section. George Hortin has been publishing the event. Our FM station, CURSE, is having a live broadcast of the game. Possibly Channel 5 will televise it.

Asked the team thought of the opposing team, the BOFBOD Bofboders, Jon Jenkins spoke and said, "They are real nice guys. But they lack strategy and a good coach. And they just don't work well as a team -- too much internal bickering. All want to call the shots, but none want the responsibility. We think we've got them beat already."

Game starts at 8 p.m. in the Faculty Dining Room. Admission is $5.00 with a student body card. Proceeds will go for uniforms for our marching band, a real worthy cause.

Coach Commanche says the team really wants the trophy and hope to make enough money to dress the band for the State Championship next month.

Budget Watchdog Is In Hospital

Victor Commanche, English professor and aggressive budget watchdog, was hospitalized last night with fractures of the head, armes, and legs, and serious injuries to other parts of the body as the result of a mysterious beating police believe was inflicted by an angered SSC football team.

Commanche, bandaged from head to foot, said from his hospital bed this morning: "Phone Benton immediately! I wanna write a Podium!"

The Cultural Programs Committee blamed the beating on the football team, and football coach Ray Lemmons accused the committee of administering the beating so it could place the team in a bad light.

Some outraged students charged the police science department was responsible, blaming students in Third Degree I-A for the beating.

Commanche's condition this morning was listed as "poor." Doctors said the professor would be able to leave his hospital bed in a couple of weeks, but Commanche's wife said he probably would not return to school until his moustache grew back in.

"Beating him up was not good enough for them," Mrs. Commanche said. "Why did they have to add insult to injury be shaving that cute little moustache off?"

Glenn Yarbrough, left, Hugh Right and far to the right ofhim, the late Ken Benton, interview Willie Wayside, leader of the internationally known recording group, the Wayside Trio. Yarbrough To Sing On Campus Thursday

Glenn Yarbrough and the Stayon Street Trio will be here Thursday night at 8:30 in the Men's Gym.

Yarbrough can trace his singing career back to when he was, at tht age of eight, a soloist at the Grace Church in New York. His singing career was put aside as he choose the study of ancient civilization, their culture and language at first St. Johns College (the "Great Books" college of legendary intellectual toughness) and Mexico City College.

Limeliters

Glenn gave up college for a singing job at Aspen's "Limelite" club. In 1959 in Los Angeles at the "Cosmo Alley" Glenn met Lou Gottlieb and Alix Hassilev and formed the famous Limeliters.

Glenn decided in 1963 it was time to move on. As a single performer Glenn has done many concerts and two albums "Time to Move On" and "One More Round" with a third "Come Share My Life" on the way.

Future

"It looks like I'll keep on singing I have a new album coming out on RCA Victor soon. I hope to do some acting – I recently completed my first dramatic television role for "Wagor Train". I'll probably do some more commercials. And someday – someday I'm going to get on my boat and finally make a trip around the world."

Tickets can be obtained in the Student Lounge for: $3.50, $3.00, and $2.50 without ASSSC Card and $2.50, $2.00, and $1.50 with ASSSC Card.

In citing the activities which the Silver Key girls felt qualified Miss Dawson for honorary membership, Carolyn Gianotti referred to her work nationally on the English Council, her reputation throughout the nation as an elementary educator and her great rapport with students in her classes.

Miss Dawson has also authored a series of language arts books now being used in public schools. She has donated a collection of books to the college library.

Humanites Division Strives For Creative Excellence

In a recent interview, Dr. Kenneth Berger, newly appointed chairman of the Humanities Division, pointed out values for which a division should strive on the state college level.

Dr. Berger has the responsibility of overseeing the vast network of liberal art fields that comprise this division.

He stated that his division has a commitment to excellence, creativity, and research, with excellence in the performing arts is a necessity for the maintenance of the best possible atmosphere for scholarship on a college campus.

According to Dr. Berger, State has one of the best drama departments in the country. Students on campus are not aware of the fine quality of presentation and educational value the drama department exhibits.

The music department offers accessibility to the greatest music of our times and previous ages. Student talent is supplemented with a Faculty Woodwind Quartet for a totality of presentation.

In the area of creativity, the Humanities Division is very active. Speech and drama departments continue to produce original plays which are shown after summer school. The art department encourages its students to be doers and many works of State students are shown in exhibits throughout the area, and instructors are active artists in their own right—some with national prominence.

In the area of research Dr. Berger stressed that the primary concern of teachers at a state college is instruction; however research and good teaching go hand in hand, and the Humanities Division is a fine example. More than 75% of the English department has published or is publishing and the same goes for the philosophy department.

Breuners Holds Art Exhibition

Breuner's Annual Student Art Exhibition of 1965 is on display in the college art gallery.

Scholarship entries from Northern California high schools have been judged by the professors in the SSC Art Research Center. Portfolios completed during the school year are submitted to the committee, which selects winners from various high schools. Work is in various medias. Awards range from acceptance to scholarships.

Also on display in the cases in the Art Building is the $10,000 Segy Gallery exhibition from New York. The display consists of original primitive African art.

Goethe Immortalized By Science Building

Famous philanthropist and conservationist, Dr. Charles M. Goethe, has recently been honored and immortalized by a unanimous resolution passed by the Committee on Gifts and Public Affairs of the California State College Board of Trustees.

His immortalization is in the form of the $4.7 million Goethe Science Building now under construction on our campus.

It is because of Dr. Goethe's outstanding service to the nation and his contributions of time and money to SSC that the new building is to be named for him.

Dr. Goethe was the first chairman of the College Advisory Board and presently holds the title of chairman emeritus of that board. He will be honored by friends from throughout the world this March 28 at a special banquet and ceremony in conjunction with his 90th birthday.

The generous Dr. Goethe and his wife, Mary, have personally donated more than 250 scholarships enabling students to continue their education.

From these plays, the four best male and female actors from the comedy and drama categories will be awarded $200 scholarships to SSC and the two best plays will be chosen.

The Lanae Festival, sponsored by Alpha Psi Omega, the honorary dramatic fraternity, and the Drama Club is presented in order to stimulate interest in our dramatic department and encourage the best actresses and actors from nearby high schools to attend SSC, according to Ted Strutz, chairman of the festival.

Ludwig Takes Chairmanship

In 1961-62, Ludwig took leave to take part in an entomological research team, working at the University of Wurzburg in the Federal Republic of Germany.

Ludwig is a member of Sigma Xi, the national academic honor society in science and is also affiliated with the American Association of the Advancement of Science.

Ludwig has been an instructor and teaching fellow in biology at Boston University for four years and later served in the same capacity while studying at Stanford.

He now resides with his wife and three children at 800 Coronado Blvd. in suburban Sacramento.

Dr. Carl Ludwig, professor of life sciences and head of the Life Science Department, recently became chairman of the Division of Science and Mathematics.

When he assumes his post in July 1, he will replace Dr. Stewart Moredock, professor of mathematics. Professor Moredock wishes to devote full time to teaching, writing, and research.

Ludwig is a graduate of Fitchburg State Teachers College in Fitchburg, Massachusetts. He holds a master of arts degree from Boston University and received his Ph.D. from BU in 1949. He came to Sacramento State College in December of that year.

West Returns From Recruiting Tour

Dr. Guy West, SSC President, recently returned from the East Coast, where he had been recruiting faculty for the coming school year—the most important function of the administration.

Next to good students it is imperative that a school have high quality faculty, he said.

Dr. West pointed out the task of recruitment is becoming increasingly more difficult each year. Sacramento State College has certain high standards of educational and teaching background that must be met before a teacher can be hired.

Originally, Dr. West did the traveling himself, but as the demand has increased so the number of faculty involved has increased to three. Dr. West foresees the day when each department will be forced to recruit faculty because of the great demands placed upon the administration.

Another problem that makes the task more difficult is the inability of California State Colleges to compete with the pay scale of other states. Dr. West stated that it is imperative for the salaries of teachers to maintain an equality with other schools for the sake of hiring good faculty.

Lawson Shines In Track Meet

By Tom Beeler

Hornet Henry Lawson and teammate Al Bianchani got together to produce three new SSC track records Saturday in a three-way meet with defending NCAA track and field champions, University of Oregon and the Cal Aggies from Davis.

Lawson ran the lead-off leg on both the 440 and mile relay teams while Bianchani ran the anchor leg, as they helped establish new records in both races. Their winning time in the 440 relay was :42.1 and their second place effort in the mile relay also established a new standard of 3:19.4. Al Bianchani won his 440 event in another record-setting performance. He bettered Dean Johnson's mark of .48.8, while running round two turns in :48.6.

Lawson was easily the outstanding athlete of the Olympic development meet as he copped three individual first places plus his gold medal effort in the 440 relay. Henry took the 100 yard dash in :10.0 on a rain-slowed track; copped firsts in the broad and triple jumps with leaps of 23-7½ and 46-11 respectively. He also ran a sub-49 second lap on the mile relay team. Easily the top effort of the day was by Oregon's post-graduate student, Paul Stuber, who set a new stadium record of 7-0 in the high jump. He made the height on his final try as the large crowd of about 1200 held its breath as he soared upwards and then roared its approval to his success.

Oregon garnered 13 first places while SSC got 5. The Aggies were shut out in the first place division. Oregon's strength was apparent in the field events, hurdles, and distance events. Even at that, though, SSC pushed Oregon hard in the discus, half-mile, and two mile events.

Neal Steinhauer of Oregon was a double winner taking the shop put with a 50-6½ effort and the discus with a spin of 157-1. Don Biagi of the Hornets was a close third in the discus with a 154-1½ effort. Bert Nicholls, SSC freshman, was just nosed out in the 880 event by Oregon's Brian Clarke who timed 1:52.6 while Nicholls was caught in 1:53.2, his best effort ever. Kent Summers and Garlan Pruitt, SSC, finished second and third to Oregon's Tonn in the two-mile race. Tonn clocked 9:32.1 while summers and Pruitt clocked 9:37.1 and 9:38.0

The Hprnets' dominance over the Aggies pointed to a two-way dual between SSC and Nevada for the FWC championship. The Hornet results:

440-relay - 1, (Lawson, Brown, Korge, Bianchani), :42.1.
Mile - 3, Richardson, 4:26.0; 4, Nelson, 4:27.5.
BJ - 1, Lawson, 23-7½; 2, Garcia, 23-0.
440 - No. 1 - 1, Lendhardt, :50.7; 4, Douglas, :52.2.
440 - No. 2 - 1, Bianchani, :48.6.
100 - 1, Lawson, :10.0; 4. B. Reimers :10.5.

HH - No. 2 - 3, Mourer, :15.6.
880 - 2, Nicholls, 1:53.2.

Thomas, Aaberg Chuck Hornets Past HSC Nine

By Lou Chicconi

Lefthanders Jim Thomas and Bob Aaberg powered the Hornets to an early FWC lead with a doubleheader sweep over the Humboldt State Lumberjacks Saturday by scores of 4-0 and 10-4.

Thomas allowed singles to Jim Bonomini and Gary Owens while fanning 13 and walking two. He collected his first victory of the year behind a six hit attack sparked by the perfect plate performance of Doug DeBortoli.

Leading off the game, Mike Rezzonico walked, John Olander was hit by a pitch, and DeBortoli singled to load the bases. 'Jack first baseman Ed Snapp's wild throw on Thomas' roller scored Rezzonico, and Olander later crossed the plate when John Edgar drew a pass.

SSC scored in the third and again in the fifth on DeBortoli's right field homer. The senior first baseman contributed to all three Hornet rallies.

A three run outburst in the first inning of the second game opened the doors to a 13 hit Hornet victory. Rudy Minnick's only hit of the day, a two run homer in the eighth, marked the biggest blow of the game.

Olander paced the onslaught with three safeties. Edgar and DeBortoli singled twice, and Rich Reese singled and doubled.

Aaberg (2-2) went the entire nine frames for SSC, walking two and striking out five.

The two talented HSC sophomore hurlers, Bill Filkins and Bob Wilkinson, suffered the losses. The latter allowed all 13 Hornet hits before giving way to a reliefer in the ninth. Filkins allowed only six hits and two earned runs in the seven inning opener.

Today the Hornets travel to Berkeley for a non-conference single game with the California Bears.

In a thrilling come from behind affair last year, SSC edged UCB 5-4 in Sacramento. The Bears come off a 4-1 victory over powerful Fresno State last weekend.

IS EUROPE?

College life is such a busy one, what with learning the Maxixe, attending public executions, and walking our cheetahs, that perforce we find ourselves sometimes neglecting our studies. Therefore this column, normally a vehicle for innocent tomfoolery, will occasionally forego levity to offer a quick survey course in one of the learned disciplines. Today, for an opener, we will discuss Modern European History.

Strictly defined, Modern European History covers the history of Europe from January 1, 1964, to the present. However, in order to provide employment for more teachers, the course has been moved back to the Age of Pericles, or the Renaissance, as it is better known as.

The single most important fact to remember about Modern European History is the emergence of Prussia. As we all know, Prussia was originally called Russia. The "P" was purchased from Persia in 1874 for $24 and Manhattan Island. This later became known as Guy Fawkes Day.

Persia without a "P" was of course called Ersia. This so embarrassed the natives that they changed the name of the country to Iran. This led to a rash of name changing. Mesopotamia became Iraq, Schleswig-Holstein became Saxe-Coburg, Bosnia-Herzegovina became Cleveland. There was even talk about changing the name of stable old England, but it was forgotten when the little princes escaped from the Tower and invented James Watt. This later became known as the Missouri Compromise.

Only last week he invented the German short-haired pointer.

Meanwhile Johann Gutenberg was quietly inventing the printing press, for which we may all be grateful, believe you me. Why grateful? I'll tell you why: Because without Gutenberg's invention you would not have this newspaper to read and you might never learn that Personna Stainless Steel Razor Blades are now available in two varieties—the regular double-edge blade we have all come to know and love, and the new Personna Injector Blade. Users of injector razors have grown morose in recent years, even sullen, and who can blame them? How would you feel if you were denied the speed and comfort and durability and truth and beauty of Personna Stainless Steel shaving? Not very jolly, I'll wager! But injector shavers may now rejoice—indeed all shavers may—for whether you remove your whiskers regularly or injectorly, there is a Personna blade for you—a Personna Stainless Steel Blade which will give you more luxury shaves than Beep-Beep or any other brand you might name. If by chance you don't agree, the makers of Personna will gladly buy you a pack of any brand you think is better.

Yes, friends, we may all be grateful to Johann Gutenberg for inventing the means to spread this great news about Personna. The next time you're in Frankfurt-am-Main, why don't you drop in and say thanks to Mr. Gutenberg? He is elderly—408 years last birthday—but still quite active in his laboratory. Only last week he invented the German short-haired pointer.

But I digress. Returning to Modern European History, let us now examine that ever-popular favorite, France.

France, as we all know, is divided into several Departments. There is the Police Department, the Fire Department, the Gas and Water Department, and the Bureau of Weights and Measures. There is also Madame Pompadour, but that is a dirty story and is taught only to graduate students.

Finally we take up Italy—the newest European nation. Italy did not become a unified state until 1848 when Garibaldi, Cavour, and Victor Emmanuel threw three coins in the Trevi Fountain. This lovely gesture so enchanted all of Europe that Metternich traded Parma to Talleyrand for Mad Ludwig of Bavaria. Then everybody waltzed till dawn and then, tired but happy, they started the Thirty Years War. This later became known as Pitt the Younger.

Space does not permit me to tell you any more about Modern European History. Aren't you glad?

Symposium Presents Contemporary Music

By Dave Trousdale

Sacramento Composers Symposium will present an open rehearsal and performance session of the original works of five Sacramento area composers from 2 to 6 p.m. Sunday in the Little Theatre, as announced by Daniel Kingman, associate professor of music.

It is hoped the symposium will become an annual affair to encourage composition and to present new styles and trends in music. Compositions from the first performance represent a broad spectrum of styles in contemporary music—from those whose language is contemporary music and those whose is grounded in tradition to those who speak the still-evolving avant-garde style.

An element of excitement emerges from the fact that none of the composers will have heard his music performed in the medium for which it was written until Sunday afternoon.

The works to be performed are A Symphony (first movement) by Gary Brainard; Nota Cambiata by Roy Sanchez; Fantasy and Fugue for Orchestra by John Mizelle; Act Two of The Scarlet Letter, an opera by James Adair; and a Preslude and Fugue by Michael Sanchez.

Each of the pieces was selected from those submitted by a Symposium Committee composed of Norman Lamb, supervisor of music in the city schools; Paul Bellam, concertmaster of the Sacramento Symphony; and Daniel Kingman, symposium director and conductor.

James Adair, well-known Sacramento composer, composer of The Scarlet Letter, staged previously with two-piano accompaniment at Sacramento State College and at Mills College in the summer of 1951.

This, however, is the first performance of any part of it with orchestra. Soloists to be heard in Adair's Act Two of his composition are Nancy Cronberg, soprano, Louis Clayson, tenor, and Daniel Elias, baritone.

Two Sacramento State graduates John Mizelle and Gary Brainard, will be represented in the performance.

Mizelle's Fantasy and Fugue for Orchestra is dedicated to Richard Swift of the University of California at Davis, where Mizelle currently is studying.

Brainard is presently working on his master's degree at UCD. His Double Concerto for Oboe, English Horn, and Wind Ensemble was performed at Davis and Redlands in 1964, where it won the Western Band Directors Association Award.

Twins Roy and Michael Sanchez of Norte Del Rio High School are two of Sacramento's most promising young composers. Both perform on several instruments and are avid, talented composers having already written for a wide variety of mediums.

The concert, which will be presented by a professional orchestra, is free and open to the public.

The "Morality of Freedom" will be the subject of Dr. Eliseo Vivas' discussion. He is Professor of Moral and Intellectual Philosophy at Northwestern University.
